This letter is a testimonial based upon why as owner of Repossession Management Services, LLC we contracted Corporate Funding, Inc.

We utilized Corporate Funding extensive knowledge in arranging new bank relationships to arrange and secure a new working capital line and term note to fund our current and future financial needs of the business.

Our company has specific financial needs and we had been unsuccessful in working with our current lender to give us flexibility and increases to fund our operation. Corporate Funding under wrote our current financials and then determined how much was needed to adequately fund the various financial needs of the business.

They then put together a presentation of our company and its financial requirements and matched us with a lender that would best fit those needs. An introduction meeting was arranged with Corporate Funding and the potential new lender. The bank indicated their desire to put together a term sheet outlaying their capital investment into our company. After several modifications based upon Corporate Funding's advice we accepted the banks working capital line and term notes in excess of $50,000 that significantly aided our company's financial requirements to run the business efficiently. We now have a long term bank partner that invested and believed in our company and its future success.

In a time of lending uncertainty it was a good decision to hire Corporate Funding, Inc. to arrange a long term banking relationship that was a balanced match for our company and the bank.

We would very much recommend their bank arrangement services.
